Personal

To cook with is the most convenient fuel to be had.

And it is the cheaper, too when the least bit of thought and attention is given it.

Try it for awhile, and you will like it. There are many satisfied users of gas in Anderson.

It's just the thing to heat the bath room with.

Reception for Bride.

Mrs. C. C. Pearce gave a large afternoon reception at her home on Elmwood avenue Thursday afternoon to introduce to her friends her new daughter-in-law, Mrs. Thomas H. Pearce, a bride of a fortnight, who has come to Columbia to live, her husband having taken an apartment at the Colonia for the winter. Two dainty little girls, Margaret Withers and Lois Cannon, took the cards at the door and Mrs. H. B. Hair and Mrs. John P. Withers greeted the guests as they entered. In the reception hall were Miss Susie Scruggs and Miss Cecile Avery and in the drawing room the hostess received with the bride and Mrs. H. Walker Powell. Mrs. H. I. Horton and Mrs. R. C. Hoyt, Mrs. C. C. Pearce was gowned in a gray crepe melleo overdressed in chiffon. Mrs. Thomas Pearce wore her wedding gown of white duchess satin and silver embroidered tulle; Mrs. Powell was in white pussy willow tulle with beaded trimmings; Mrs. Horton wore light blue crepe de chine and Mrs. Hoyt's costume was of black chiffon. Presiding in the dining room were Dr. Mary Lyles-Simms, Mrs. W. E. Avery and Mrs. Alma Burkhalter.

The decorations were particularly elaborate and beautiful. The drawing room and hall were in white and green with quantities of chrysanthemums and smilax used everywhere and the dining room was pink throughout, with roses as the chosen flower. The table was covered with ebony lace, in the center of which was placed a large basket of roses and fern, pink candles burning there and elsewhere about the room. A salad course with an ice was served. During the two hours, from 5 to 7 o'clock, there was delightful music by the Davis-Little orchestra while about 150 guests came and went.—Columbia State.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Warren Sullivan announced the engagement of their daughter, Wilcox Waterfield, to O. N. Mattison, the wedding to take place Wednesday evening, December 23.—At Honea Path.

Callum-Craig.

Batesburg, Oct. 23.—One of the most beautiful weddings which has taken place in this section was that of Miss Louie Callum and the Rev. William Marshall Craig, of Wilmington, N. C., Thursday night in the Baptist church of this place.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. N. N. Burton, grandfather of the bride, and the event was witnessed by a large number of friends and relatives of the popular young people. The church was decorated for the occasion in white and green, the wedding ceremony taking place beneath an arch brilliantly lighted with candles, the wedding party forming on an improvised platform.

At 6 o'clock to the strains of the Lohengrin wedding march, rendered by an orchestra of Columbia, the wedding party entered. First came the ribbon girls, two in each aisle. Misses Lucy Callum, Volina Wilson, Margaret Edwards and Evelyn Cooner followed by the four ushers, L. D. Callum, Jr., L. C. Callum, W. T. Atkins, of Lake City and Perry of Wilmington, N. C. Then came the two bridesmaids with a groomsmen, Miss Constance Callum with Ernest Machen and Miss Leda Poore with W. P. Sawyer, after whom came the dame of honor, Mrs. Lorena Dyer Callum. She in turn was followed by the maid of honor, Miss Mary Callum, sister of the bride; then came little Miss Alice Watson, bearing two lighted candles, one of which she extinguished as the couple were made one, and following her came the little ringbearer, Miss Josephine Jones, who bore the ring in the center of a large chrysanthemum; then came the flower girls, Misses Frances and Praderia Callum. The bride followed leaning on the arm of her father, L. D. Callum, the groom meeting her at the altar with his best man, Mr. O. Alexander of Wilmington. The bride, one of the most beautiful young women of the Ridge, was particularly attractive in a wedding gown of fish colored satin trimmed with blue lace and pearls, with a court train of silk tulle, wide bands of satin on each side hanging from her shoulders. She carried a large bouquet of bride roses with pink orchids in the center.

To the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march the bridal party adjourned to the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Callum, Sr., where a brilliant reception was tendered the party and the invited guests. During the evening over 300 people rallied themselves of the hospitality of the Callum home, and the affair has been pronounced one of the most enjoyable yet held in this section. The home was brilliantly lighted and decorated for the occasion.

The guests were met at the door by Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Brabham and

ANDERSON WILL HAVE A STREET CARNIVAL

ARRANGEMENTS MADE TO SHOW ON ROBERTS PROPERTY

THE CONTRACTS

Mr. Whaley Wrote Asking That These Be Cancelled—Show People Arrived Sunday.

The advance guard of a large street carnival arrived in Anderson Sunday at noon as did also Mr. Gulleit, business representative of Myerhoff Amusement company, Inc., of New York. Both came thinking there was going to be a county fair here this week and under contracts signed for the Anderson County Fair association by Mr. Porter A. Whaley, formerly secretary of the Anderson chamber of commerce. In fact the contract had been signed by Mr. Whaley of the sixth day of last April, it possibly being his intention to try to have a county fair this fall. Investigation yesterday showed that Mr. Whaley wrote a letter about two months ago to Dr. C. F. Ross, member of the entertainment committee of the chamber of commerce, asking that the contract be cancelled and that the letter be turned over to the chairman of that same committee who would do this.

Mr. Ross stated to a representative of The Intelligencer yesterday afternoon that the letter was turned over to Mr. Frank Watkins. Mr. Watkins stated that he read the letter, but noting it was in behalf of the county fair association, and he knowing that there was no such organization, and also because no one in the city had received any communications from the company since the contract was signed, he thought a mistake had been made and did not write the cancellation.

As to what the business manager of Myerhoff company will do is related elsewhere in this morning's paper.

Mr. Cummings late yesterday afternoon made arrangements to have his carnival show in Anderson this week on the Roberts lot in the northern part of the city.

Mr. Cummings is the head official of the carnival, which consists of six shows—a rather small carnival, known as the Big Four Amusement company. The carnival played in Greenwood last week and is billed to show in Abbeville next week.

Mr. Cummings saw that there would be nothing doing as far as the county fair contract was concerned, so took steps to make arrangements for having his carnival show in the city limits independent of the other attractions, including the aeroplane, etc.

Mr. Cummings explained his predicament to the mayor and to the members of the city council. They stated that Mr. Whaley had contracted to furnish something which he could not possibly furnish, and one of these—the main one—was a city license. Mr. Whaley made his contract about the middle of April last after the council in December last had passed a prohibitive license on carnivals showing within the city limits.

Mr. Cummings stated that he had been misled and deceived, and asked in view of the circumstances that he and his show associates be allowed to play in Anderson. The city officials expressed their sympathy for Mr. Cummings, who had 99 persons idle on his hands, not to mention the several carloads of show equipment.

Finally, after several conferences the city officials decided to lift the prohibitive license, because of the existing circumstances and to allow the carnival to show here this week, the city to receive for its license 10 per cent of the gross receipts of all six shows and concessions. The officials stated that this license would be of no force and effect unless the consent of all persons living in the neighborhood of the show lot could be procured or their objections waived.

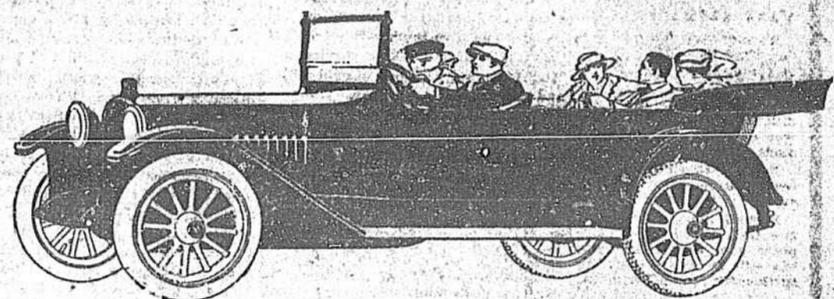

The Ligon lot on South Main street was first in the mind of the show men, and they called on the indignant neighbors. The neighbors would not or did waive their objections nor

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Holman, wife, in the receiving line were Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Callum, Sr., Mrs. Craig, mother of the groom, Miss Edna Bates and Miss Carrie Lou Callum. At the dining room door the guests were met by Dr. and Mrs. W. T. Gibson and dainty favors were given them by Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Watson, the favors being for the women, heart sachets made from the dress and veil of the bride, while the men's cards of the same material with gold letters. Mr. and Mrs. Ira C. Carson received the guests into the punch room, where Dr. and Mrs. Taylor ushered them into the room where the presents were displayed. Misses May Lily Southington and Kate Callum served tea.

The wedding register was presided over by Mrs. L. D. Callum, Sr., daughter of the groom, Miss Edna Bates and Miss Carrie Lou Callum. During the course of the evening refreshments were served, heart-shaped pink and white ice cream, fruit cake and pound cake with fruit punch. Favors for the bridal party were original and attractive, the women receiving miniature slippers of pink and white, the men receiving lines of the valley.

The bride is a daughter of L. D. Callum, one of the best known business men of this section of the state, and is one of the most popular young women of the Ridge section. After the reception the couple left in an automobile for Columbia to spend their honeymoon in the mountains, after which they will be at home in Wilmington, where the groom is pastor of the First Baptist church.—The State.

ITCHING ECZEMA IS DRIED RIGHT UP WITH SULPHUR

Use like cold cream to subdue irritation and clear the skin.

Any breaking out or irritation on the face, arms, legs and body when accompanied by itching, or when the skin is dry and feverish, can be readily overcome by applying a little bold sulphur. It is noted dermatologists. He informs us that bold sulphur instantly always the angry itching and irritation and soothes and heals the Eczema right up leaving the skin clear and smooth. Bold sulphur has occupied a secure position for many years in the treatment of cutaneous disorders because of its germicide-destroying property. Nothing has ever been found to take its place in treating the Eczema and other skin affections. While not always establishing a permanent cure it never fails to subdue the itching irritation and drive the Eczema away and it is often years later before any eruption again appears. Those troubled should obtain from any druggist an ounce of bold sulphur which is applied to the affected parts in the same manner as an ordinary cold cream. It is not unpleasant and the prompt relief afforded, particularly in itching Eczema, proves very welcome.

We are recommending our 10-1-0 and 10-2-0 and 10-2-1/2-0 for wheat and oats this fall when you sow it.

This will give it stalk and grains in the head, and that it what you want in grain. If you will sow five acres in wheat and five in oats this fall, after preparing the land well and fertilizing it well with either of these goods, you will find it advantageous. The 10-2-1-0 is an especially fine goods for grain. Let us hear from you.

Life Insurance and Credit

The public will be greatly interested to know that on the several blanks applying for credit with the Federal Reserve Bank of New York City the question as to the amount of life insurance carried in favor of the firm, the corporation or the individual is asked. The inquiry concerning life insurance is placed on the "assets" side of the blank, while mortgages and other liens are naturally placed on the "liabilities" side.

The time has come when definite liabilities can only be safely effect by the asset of life insurance. This requirement made of applicants for credit only substantiates the statement of the late President Clark, of the Manufacturers Company, who once said, "It is practically beyond doubt that such action—the taking of business insurance—strengthens the credit of firms adopting it. The increased confidence it establishes is recognized in the mercantile community and thus reflected through our reports."

The security afforded by life insurance in the wide realm of interests which it affects is constantly receiving greater and deserved recognition. To urge the taking of life insurance as a strengthening of credit is well within the proper bounds of the life insurance salesman.
